ALIV 7000 PHONE Rumor is false

BN Agent, V

In the midst of the deadliest storm to ever hit our nation a media campaign was launched announcing 7000 phones for people in Abaco and Grand Bahama that wanted to port their number by a former disgruntled BTC user. The ad went viral and caused many shares and concerns by those whom saw it.

Aliv was quick to do damage control and followed up with an apology and denied the ad was authentically theirs dispelling all inquiries and commendations.

Such acts of hatred and divide are certainly not condoned by BN and BN strongly discourages any acts of hate or division.

In the midst of the aftermath of Hurricane Dorian BN urges all Bahamians and residents alike to unify as we are one.

With scores of commitments pouring into our country by way of national Press releases and Social media medium the Bahamas is well on her way to recovery.

A closer look at the Donors list causes a deeper appreciation for who we are as a people and nation. It was most noteworthy to hear Dominica's pledge early out to support. It was this same Dominica that some criticise when the PM extended the hands of the Bahamas to help. The old adage give and receive was best displayed in this pledge to the Bahamas.

WHAT was also noticeable was the fact that not one Bahamian Millionaire/Billionaire from the Bay Street Boys and White Knights clan has donated anything so far. Hat's off to Adriann Foxx for his generosity and pledge to the Bahamians relief efforts now what remains are the extensions from other empowered Bahamians.

1932 HURRICANE WIPED OUT ABACO

HISTORY PARTIALLY REPEATED ITSELF CAT 5 HITS ABACO IN 1932

BN Agent, X

The 1932 Bahamas hurricane, also known as the Great Abaco hurricane of 1932, was a large and powerful Category 5 hurricane that struck the Bahamas at peak intensity.

16 people were reported killed, along with an additional 300 injured. This entire toll occurred in the Bahamas, notably on and around Abaco Island; damage estimates in dollars, however, were not released. Despite the large size and great intensity of the hurricane, ample warnings prevented loss of life and commerce at sea.

As the storm passed north of Cat Island, it caused a pressure of 29.47 inHg (998.0 mb) and a wind of 20 mph (32 km/h) from the north. Although the cyclone passed within 65 mi (105 km) of the Bahamian capital Nassau, the storm only caused winds up to 50 mph (80 km/h) and no significant damage there.

The storm was very destructive on Abaco Island, where the reported barometric pressure was below 27.50 inHg. At Hope Town, strong winds shifting from northeast to southeast destroyed 83 homes and severely damaged 63. Food supplies ran low and salt contaminated the drinking supply. All public buildings along with the radio station were destroyed.

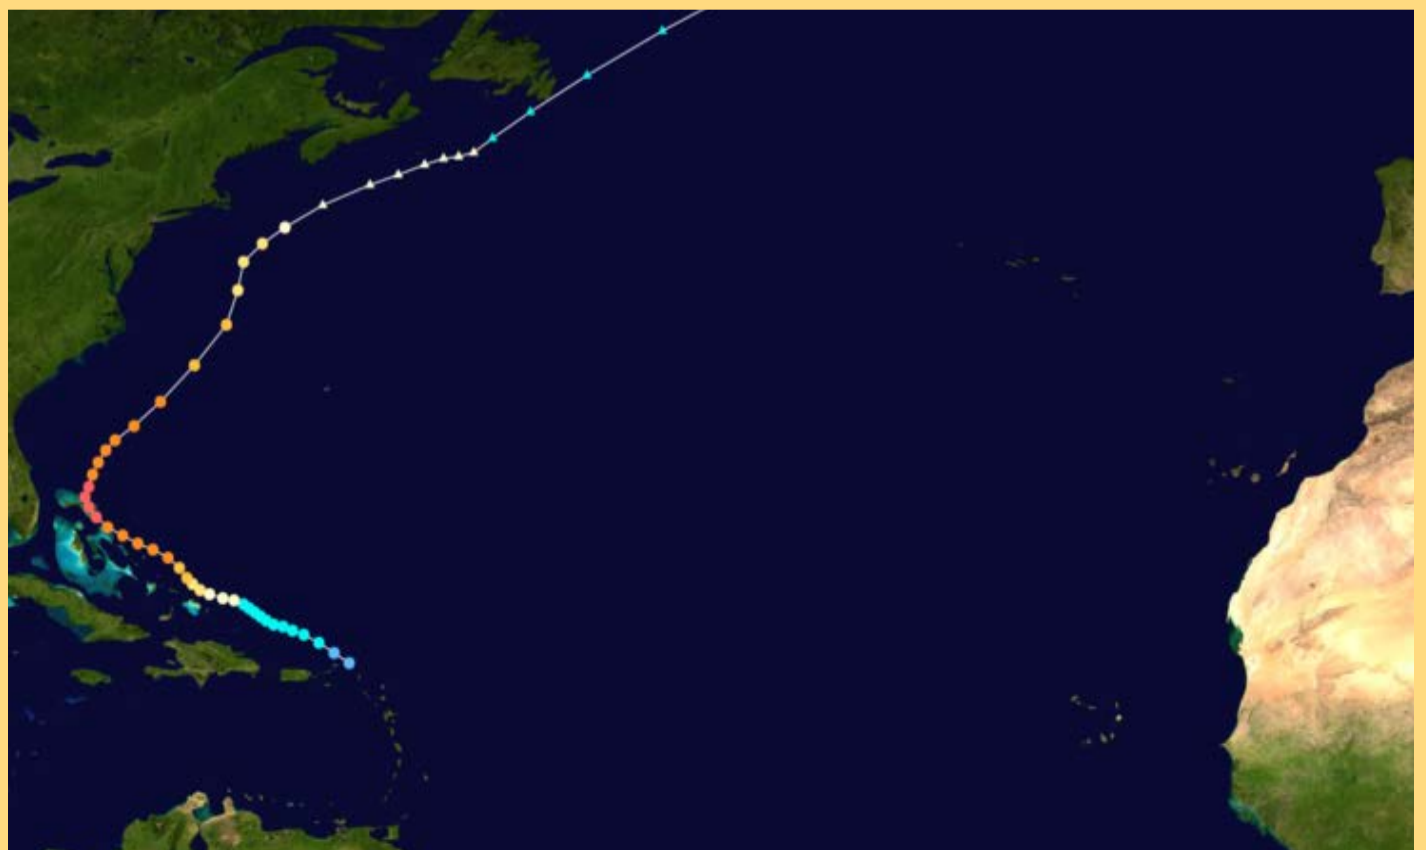

The lowest pressure at Hope Town was 27.20 inHg (921.1 mb) around 15 UTC on September 5. At nearby Marsh Harbour, northeast winds shifted to southwest at 20 UTC and calm conditions occurred for 15 minutes as the eye passed. The barometer dropped as low as 27.60 inHg (934.6 mb). 12 homes were destroyed and most of the remainder severely damaged.

On Green Turtle Cay, near Abaco Island, north and northwest winds coincided with the worst conditions; a large storm surge inundated the island, all buildings and the graveyard were destroyed, and at least six people died with 25 injuries reported. At nearby Coopers Town, just six homes survived the storm. Only four homes were still standing on Great Guana Cay.[10] On Green Turtle Cay, two large brick churches with stone walls 3 ft thick were destroyed by the storm and winds were estimated by one resident to have exceeded 200 mph (320 km/h); some of the stone blocks from the churches were reportedly carried 0.50 mi (0.80 km). Newspaper reports and photos helped to establish estimated prevailing winds on Green Turtle Cay that possibly exceeded 150 mph (240 km/h) during the hurricane.

After the storm passed Abaco on September 6 and 7, several vessels caught in the storm recorded winds of Force 12 (Beaufort Wind Scale) and low barometric pressures.

 Through all this ruins and disaster its funny that Bahamians still find humor in tragic moments, its just a part of our natural build up. So today were crowning this clown that decided to take a dive into the streets for gigs. This is the same puddle, or should we say blue hole that staled a truck and a car in it already located in Nassau on the back strip of Nassau Village. We commend you young lad for your source of humor, were just glad you didnt break a bone not knowing the depth/height of that mucky puddle. Touche.

The question now is where is the known millionaires and billionaire families that live here in The Bahamas? And when will? Or who is going to donate should be the question?

Our country is hurting at the moment, this is no time to pretend and play blind as if you cant see the thousands of families homeless, lacking shelter, clothes and food. If anyone want a peek of how real this relief is take a day out of this week and take a walk into PMH where the injured from the storm are being kept and hear the hundreds of stories being told on persons experience during the storm.

RUMORS OF LOOTING IN ABACO

BN Agent, X
Sandra Cooke tells the world of her disappointment in the RBDF as looting grips Abaco following Hurricane Dorian. Victim claims people were looting with guns and rocks at homes that are still in tack. Stealing food and goods from people's home. The Prime Minister and Minister of National Security came on live TV, and stated that those are rumors and lies, no one is being looted and there is no group of people with guns stealing and robbing homes in Abaco. The question is who is telling the truth is it the ministers or is it the various people on social media? A few more questions to consider before making a judgement. If the island has basically been washed away. Where did these people get guns from? Was the gun store the only building left standing for persons to loot and arm themselves. Why hasn't anyone captured a video of the bandits in the street or in action? Why is this only by word of mouth, and no one has footage of the looting. Persons has been able to take photos and videos of everything else, wrecked and flooded homes, passed away persons in rubble from the storm and countless amounts of wasteland footage, but theres not one photo or image of these looting bandits. Makes you go hmmm, maybe there really isn't any gunmen roaming the streets and maybe people are creating horror stories for later on self gain, we may not know the answer now on why its being done, but time will tell.

OIL SPILL IN GB, DURING THE HURRICANE

BN Agent, X

The island of Grand Bahama currently has a major oil spill making it harmful to be in water of any sort. Oil spills are hazardous to human flesh, which can lead to skin cancer and other harmful illnesses. Please be cautious of this before entering in water until this is resolved in Grand Bahama. During this crisis in The Northern Bahamas its extremely important to keep in mind the importance of health for yourself, family and loved ones. Do spread the word so that everyone can be aware during the relief in Grand Bahama.

WALT DISNEY COMMITTS TO $1 MILLION IN HURRICANE RELIEF

BN Agent, X

The Walt Disney Company announced a commitment to donate more than $1 million to provide relief and recovery efforts in The Bahamas, the company said Tuesday in a release.

The donation will assist non-profit recovery and relief agencies with rebuilding and aid in the distribution of supplies such as food staples and construction materials to those impacted in the Bahamas.

"We hope our $1 million donation will provide much-needed relief and help our neighbors, colleagues, and all those impacted by this devastating storm begin the long process of recovery as they work to put their lives and communities back together," said Chairman and CEO Bob Iger.

More than 60 Bahamians from Abaco and Grand Bahama are employed at Disney Castaway Cay, the company's private island in The Bahamas.

Royal Caribbean has also pledged to donate $1 million dollars to help those in the Bahamas rebuild, WESH2 reported.

"The Bahamas has been part of our family for nearly five decades.

Our thoughts & support are with them during this difficult time," Royal Caribbean said in a release.

CHINESE AMBASSADOR GIVES $20,000 WORTH OF GOODS & SAYS MORE IS TO COME!

BN Agent, X

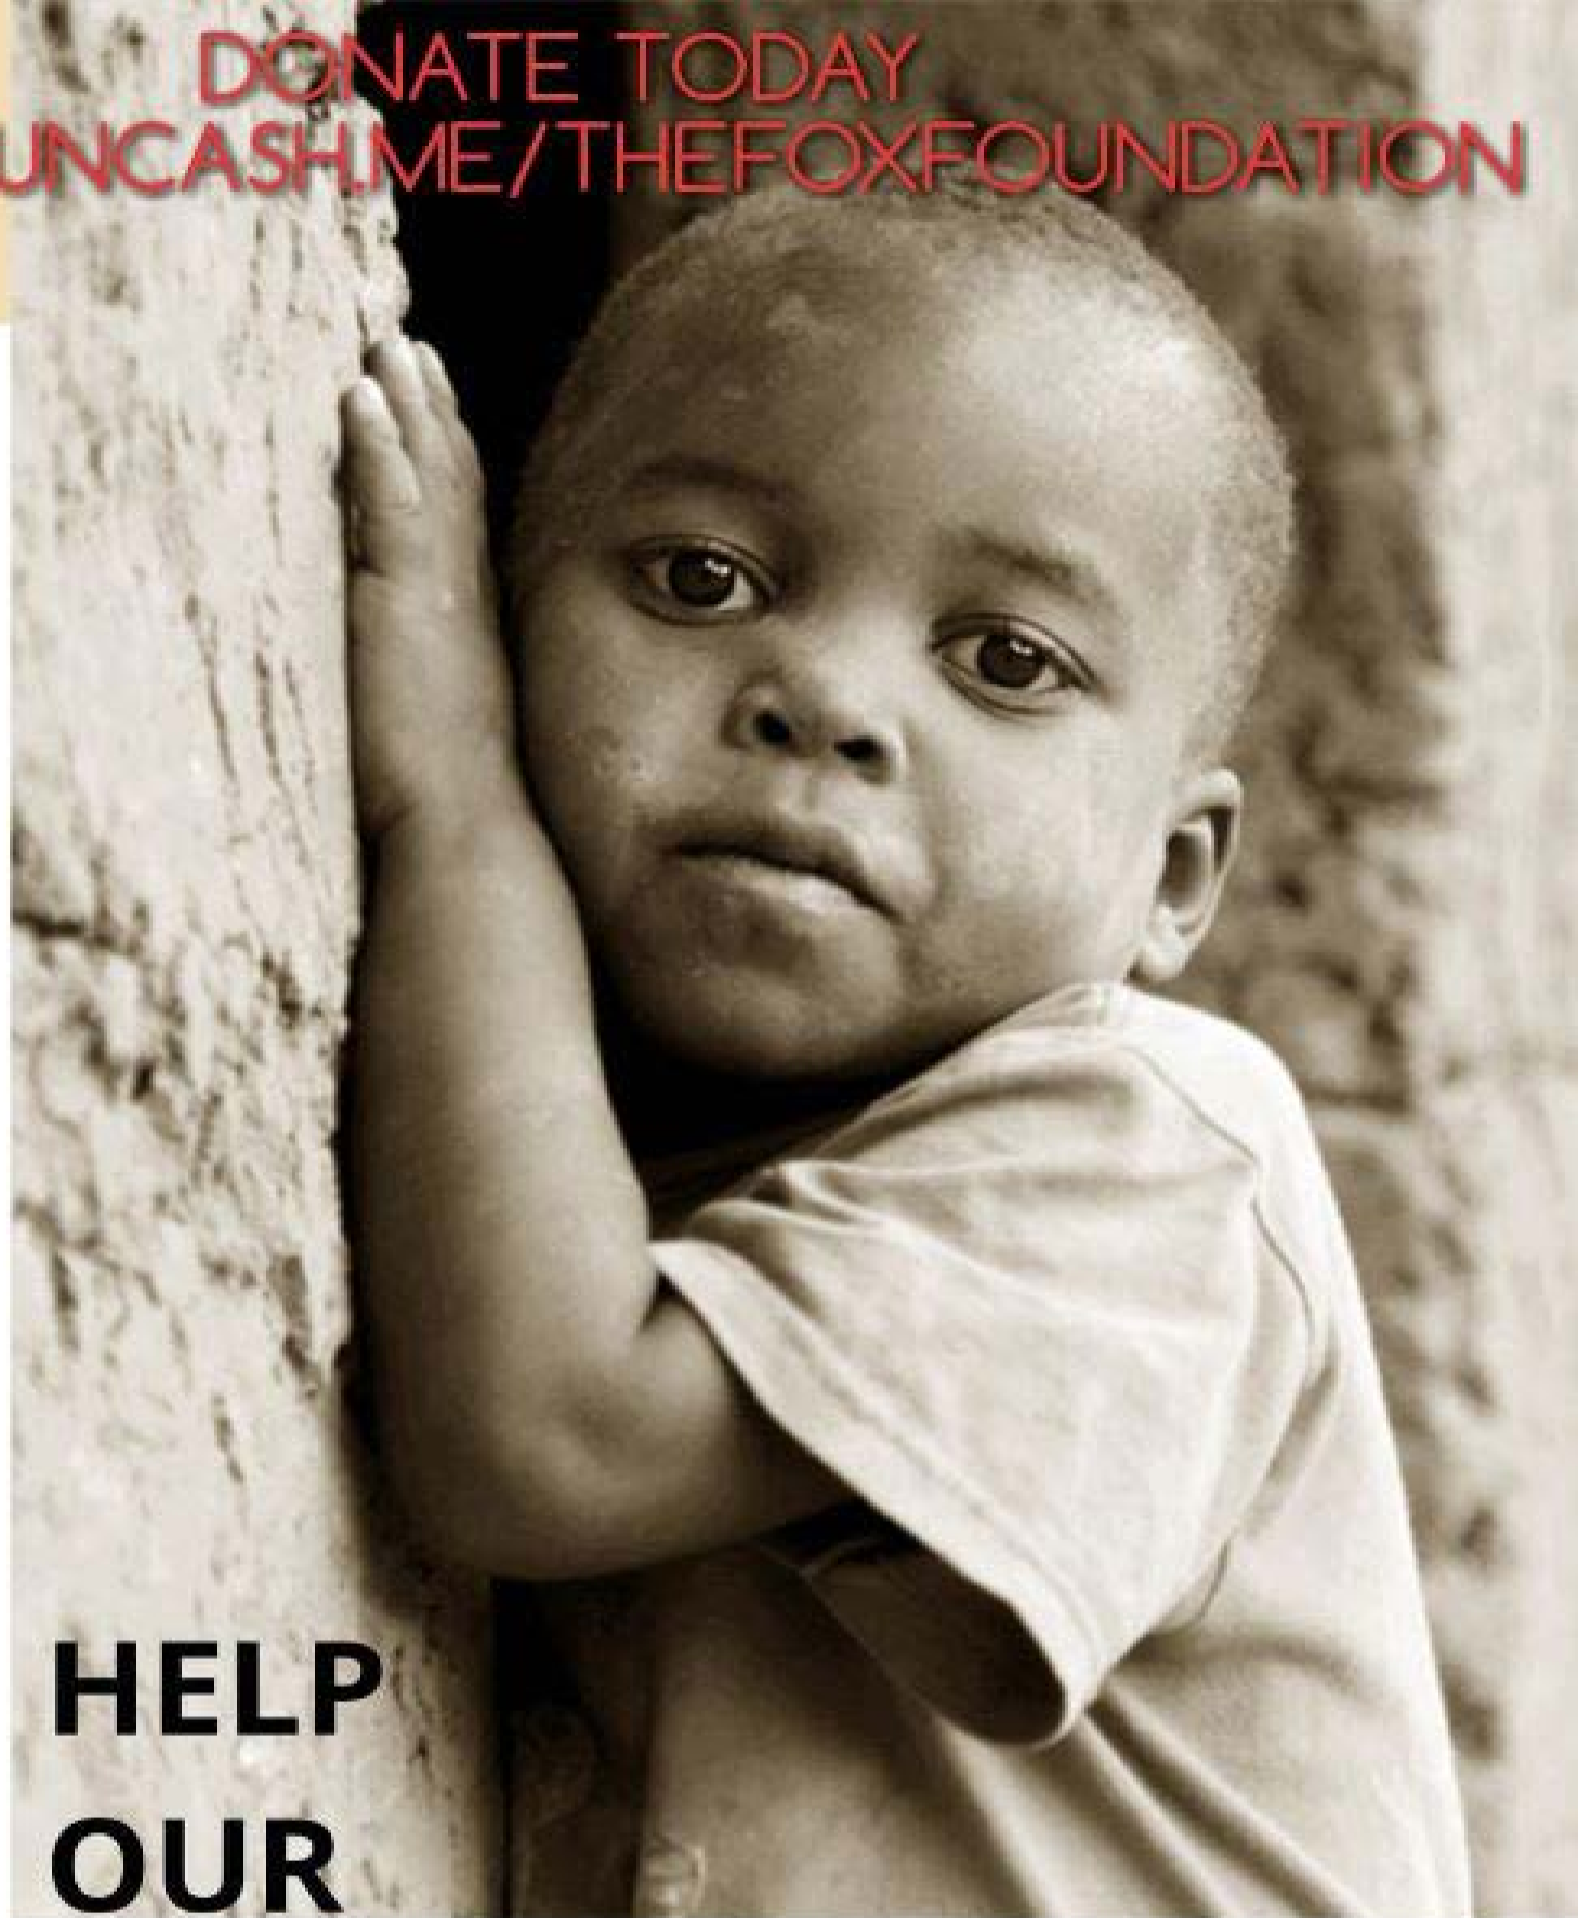

The Ambassador of the People's Republic of China to The Commonwealth of The Bahamas, His Excellency Huang Qinguo on behalf of his country, presented Captain Stephen Russell, Director of the National Emergency Management Agency (NEMA) with $20,000 in goods for the victims of Hurricane Dorian at NEMA's Headquarters, Wednesday, September

4, 2019. Captain Russell expressed thanks for the "timely contribution" and said that the goods will be taken by the Royal Bahamas Defence Force to Grand Bahama and Abaco. The Ambassador also pledged that the Republic will be donating more goods in the future. The goods include food supplies as well as baby and hygiene products.

BUDDY DONATES $ 100K

Hello everyone. As you know, my country, The Bahamas has been severely damaged

BN Agent, R

Chavano "Buddy" Hield, has pledged $100,000 in aid of hurricane relief for victims of Hurricane Dorian on the islands of Abaco and Grand Bahama. Buddy, a Bahamian national, plays in the NBA. In making his donation, Buddy also appealed to the general public to further assist in hurricane relief efforts saying, "Bahamians are one of the strongest set of people I know. But, they still need your help to get through this..." Buddy was born and raised on the island of Grand Bahama, one of the two severely damaged islands. The fact that he came from a small country and currently plays competitive basketball in the NBA proves that Bahamians are indeed overcomers and we break down every wall that blocks our path. Several celebrities and major companies like Rhianna, Tyler Perry, Walt Disney and others also made statements of assisting the devastated islands with resources for hurricane relief. We are down but not out. We will rebuild and remain united.
