“ AI & BLOCKCHAIN MISSING PERSON REGISTRY, LAUNCHED BY 22 YEAR OLD YOUTH MP

BN Agent, V

Every year time is set aside for the Youth Parliament. This mock session is geared at featuring the talents and possible interests of some of our youths. During the mock session all seats represented are “filled” with young people including the Speaker and Deputy Speaker’s seats.

This year even more dynamic young people participated and one of them we would like to highlight is 22 year old Hon. John Bridgewater, who was the Youth appointed MP for Bain & Grants town. Bridgewater who is originally from Grand Bahama, is the Co-founder & CEO of Bluestone Technologies Ltd. which is a technology based company focused on enhancing the prospects of humanity through technology.

Most recently, Mr. Bridgewater and his team launched the world’s first blockchain and Ai missing person’s registry, FindMeBahamas, with hopes to help citizens find their missing loved ones after Hurricane Dorian and beyond.

With so much going on negatively with our young men and with such innovative technology we decided that someone so young should be showcased. Congratulations John Bridgewater a 22 year old young man who is rocking the region in technology and now politics.

POTTER’S CAY DOCK A GHOST TOWN! IS THIS GENTRIFICATION?

BN Agent, V

The only thing missing from Potter’s Cay Dock is the tumbleweed you see rolling around in places formerly occupied now left desolate.

It’s heart wrenching to pass through Potter’s Cay on Saturday’s and Sunday’s to see 75% of the stall’s closed and the ones opened scanty with customers. What happened to the robust preferred hangout spot for many? We remember there were two murders at Potter’s Cay that involved persons from a particular lifestyle and area.

Since that time the Cay hasn’t been the same and the vendors struggle to stay open and their most faithful supporters continue to patronize their booths. It’s depressing that more has not been done to drive traffic to the once popular spot. All of our lives Potter’s Cay has been a place of movement in several veins. There were the frequent occupancy of the import/export vessels and mailboats, and then there were the conch, fish and produce vendors that commanded traffic of their patrons and then the food stalls And more recently the food vans. Each provided cause and support that made Potter’s Cay boom and thrive both day and night.

Now today more than 6 months after those incidents very little had been done to advance and increase the traffic flow again. What is visible is the Police presence that brings with it a sense of security but the downside is you are not allowed to Park in front of any stall as the Police will ask you to move. With vendors rushing you to leave and circle lest you get a ticket. They would rather lose the sale than see you get a ticket.

To understand the Cay you must know that from its inception customers were always able to walk up or drive up in front of the stall of their choice without hindrance. While we drove through Potter’s Cay we did observe the tow away signs for persons parking but no signage to not being allowed to park in front of stall.

These vendors are made to pay a rental for their space but no one including the Transport and Agriculture Ministries have been successful in addressing this concern. The police presence is good, let’s keep that but don’t penalize the vendors and patrons by forcing customers to circle again and again. Once people are made to circle many will not circle back.

There must be a deliberate cohesive effort made to revitalize Potter’s Cay Dock otherwise the tumbleweed will be rolling. Weekend activities should be planned to drive traffic to the Cay. Other initiatives should be explored and activator but something must be done. If not this maybe a prime example of modern day gentrification, and we may expect to see a new arawak cay/fish fry #2 when all of the current stall owners sell their spaces in this drought and allow entities to rebuild and create a new under the dock.

LOCALS COME AT HAITIAN VEGETABLE & FRUIT SELLERS

FOR YEARS THESE VENDORS HAVE BEEN SUPPLYING BAHAMIANS WITH FRUITS & VEGETABLES

NOW LOCALS ARE TAKING A STAND

BN Agent, V

With the increase of Bahamians becoming more pissed off and fed up with the illegal immigration problems and more specifically towards the illegal Haitians; there will be louder cries and pressure for the Government to address this looming problem that is clearly becoming out of hand.

It has become difficult to live cohesively with the illegal Haitians who are becoming more aggressive in their fight to survive and stay in the Bahamas. Whatever happened to you are illegal so stay out of sight and have little to say. Not the Haitians not only are they illegal but they are prepared to fight or argue for rights they DO NOT HAVE ENTITLEMENT TO. Indeed this is a problem.

Haitian's have squatted on land off Cowpen for many decades and as mama would say "the chickens have come home to roost" and so they have. These once ago squatters survived off the land they illegally lived on as they were laborers who were once allowed to bring other family members and friends to live on and till the land with them in exchange for a place to live unbothered.

Bahamians in many regards were owners of the land and their greed to defraud the Department of Immigration allowed access to housing to people who like the Chinese had a plan that transcended that of being a lifetime labourer. Plan they did have and their high birth rate now reveals the plan that was once afoot. As their children born in the Bahamas were given care and intention to being properly documented. They towed lines and took insults to have their children births recorded, their children were immunized, went to public school and eventually obtained citizenship. All while some crown land owners collected rent from them for substandard housing with no proper facilities in place for the disposal of bodily waste. Perhaps this rental exchange gave them some feelings of entitlement.

While we were aware, it was as if we were asleep perhaps because some Politician or close family members were owners of these lands granted on behalf of the Crown. Free land abused by those granted access and occupancy Have today created a problem that must now be addressed. BN says make those crown land owners pay and revoke their grant to the land

The Haitians are now bolder than ever. They are selling fruits and vegetables on Cowpen road without proper permits and permissions while those wishing to do the same at BAMSI pop up market are only allowed to do so having paid a small fee and only on Saturdays. Unless we have taken our glasses off there seems to be something wrong with this picture. Why haven't the Department of Immigration approach these vendors that are in direct competition to true Bahamian farmers in the same vicinity? Why haven't Agriculture Officers address this issue? What about the Ministry of Works, Beaches and Parks, Environmental Health, The Police Force, NIB and Business License? All by the way must issue permits or permissions for the structures erected, roadside vending and all other registrations and licenses needed to run such operations. We get it that's someone's livelihood but so are the thousands of other businesses owned by Bahamians required to be fully licensed in order to operate.

We must be humane in our approach BN will have it no other way, however the laws must be enforced. While we have spoken about the Cowpen Road vendors there remain other undocumented individuals also along our streets selling water, sodas, phone cards and newspapers who are not even legal yet benefits greatly from our great Bahamaland. Bahamian be warned what you harbor today may hunt you and your children tomorrow.

TRICK OR TREAT HALLOWEEN IS AROUND THE CORNER AND THE COSTUMES ARE ALREADY OUT

BN Agent, V

While we are awaiting the treats of Halloween BN came upon a few tricks, yes trucks cause they were no treat that we wanted to share with you.

The Freaks come out at night was the name of the song by Whodini and boy he did not lie. With Halloween just days away the festivities associated with it has already begun...can you believe it?

BN saw freaks and yes we do mean freaks of all sort who went to great trouble to transform or should we say reveal themselves. From the looks of things these early show boats are only a peek at what will come for the rest of the week. Faint hearted beware this is not the week to be on Facebook lurking because we can tell you the freaks will be out and they will be getting their freak on.

While the freaks show themselves this week we ask that you be responsible in your freak out and not hurt anyone or yourself. BN will be out to see who else spazz's on their halloween outfit this week as Halloween continues.

HIGH SPEED CHASE BUSTING
SHOTS AT THE POLICE

BN Agent, V

In what can only be described as some high pack action film residents in the Pinewood/Nassau Village communities must have had mixed emotions as we believe the dominant emotion was fear.

When a high speed chase involving Cops and suspects ripped through those communities. With nothing short of a miracle no innocent was victim to the plight.

Imagine 2 or 3 or 4 cars speeding past you so fast that the wind from them causes your whole body to shake and your heart to race so fast that you wondered if you were an occupant in one of the vehicles. Back to the story... lights flashing on the patrol car and perhaps the siren was on but definitely that horn that says Police coming stand clear.

Chase engaged suspects hailing tail, but the Cops right behind couldn't be shaken because that Cop driver was going to stop at nothing. The right man was behind the wheel that day. Cop pursuing, Suspects desperate to get away increased speed then in desperation made a turn in someone's yard and their fate was sealed as they drove into a fence.

If that wasn't enough returned fire and in the car engulfed in flames the suspects both suspects of the emerged "cops and robbers style" and open custody. fire on the Cops who

JASON DERULO VISITS BAHAMAS AFTER HURRICANE DORIAN TO HELP

BN Agent, X

The singer cleared debris, spoke with government officials and met residents, but he says relief work there is only just beginning.

For Jason Derulo, Hurricane Dorian hit close to home.

The musician, 30, was raised in Miami and his parents, Joel and Jocelyne Desrouleaux, are from Haiti. When September's Category 5 storm hit the Bahamas and ripped through Haitian immigrant settlements, he wanted to help.

"When I first heard about the storm, I was shocked looking at the footage on television," Derulo tells PEOPLE. "I wanted to get over there as soon as I could."

"It's my roots being from Miami and being of Haitian descent."

Derulo traveled to the Bahamas on Oct. 5 and 6 with volunteers from CORE, Sean Penn's relief organization, and his own foundation, Just For You. The two organizations partnered for the singer's trip, where he visited CORE recovery programs, clearing debris and spending time at Haitian settlements.

"I feel like people don't know exactly how bad it is," says Derulo. "When you think about the Bahamas, you don't really think about devastation. You don't think about it being a place where anything negative can happen because all you think of is paradise. Everything is gone. It's surreal and it reminds you of a movie, like what the apocalypse looks like."

USA SETS UP TO SEND MORE MONEY POST HURRICANE DORIAN

BN Agent, V

The US has pledged additional monies to assist with the aide relief for those of Hurricane Dorian. This additional $7.5 million bipartisan (both Democrats and Republicans) Gift confirms the US commitment to the Bahamas and a generous offer of goodwill ( total aide amount given 33 million so far) to a country who has been its friends for a long time. With the Chinese increase presence it's important for the US to maintain a strong and more importantly a stronger presence in our country. As the Chines wishes to get hold of our natural resources and God knows whatever else as their interest goes far beyond this country and its people. Although the Chinese have purchased properties in the Bahamas little more can be said about them as they seek to employ foreign nationals rather than authentic Bahamians. AAdditionally their treatment of Bahamians has been condescending as more recently we have seen the Chinese physically attack Bahamians rather than call the police for assistance. The Bahamas is situated just 35 mins from Florida and everything that goes on in the Bahamas should be of interest and concerns to the US. This additional $7.5 million is to assist the humanitarian needs of those worst affected by the storm and this should be good news to those in East End Grand Bahama as they were the hardest hit in Grand Bahama. We are grateful for the assistance given as we together build a stronger Bahamas.

USAID donates an additional $7.5 Million for humanitarian assistance in GB

Authored by: Andrew Cookley

Date: October 1, 2019

FREEPORT, Grand Bahama – The United States is providing an additional $7.5 million dollars in humanitarian assistance to the people of The Bahamas who were affected by Hurricane Dorian, bringing the United States' total funding for the response to Dorian to more than $33 million.

The additional funding was announced by the United States Agency for International Development (USAID) Administrator Mark Green, during a press briefing at Samartian's Pulse on Tuesday, October 1, 2019.

Green was a part of a bipartisan, government effort.

"This assistance is part of a whole of the United States' Government effort in partnership with the Bahamian Government, charitable organizations and the private sector to address the humanitarian needs of those affected by the strongest storm ever to hit The Bahamas," said Green.

that, but little did he know Senior man had gotten tired and set a bait for him. If dumb could’ve gotten any dumber than Jackoo he to would have touted a fresh cut hip. Senior man had set up a young fool, because he knew you couldn’t resist and just as calculated you tipped toe right into cut hip central. Can someone please call the Police cause this one over.

Cut hip, video recorded and it has gone viral man only thing for this fool had left to do is change, change his clothes, name, address, phone number, nationality and race. Hope he learn’s after totein’ this royal slam bam.

DEANDRE AYTON SUSPENDED FOR 25 GAMES

BN Agent, X

Bahamian NBA Superstar Deandre Ayton got suspended last week by the NBA. Because he failed his drug test, he has been suspended for 25 games. Rumor has it this suspension is going to cost him some 2.2 million from his 9+ million dollar contract with the Sun. We hope he gets through this one well and the mistake never happens again to our superstar.
