MISSING
FOUND AS JOHN DOE

BN Agent, V

Missing boy, was killed and placed in the morgue as John Doe, Family had no clue.

Monday morning police were called to an abandoned building on Bahama Avenue. Upon arrival they discovered the body of a lifeless male with multiple gunshot wounds about the body. He was pronounced dead on the scene and transported to PMH. Meanwhile the family of the young man was under the impression that he was missing, family members stated that they were unaware that he was dead as no public notice was made. It was not until word was given that a body in the morgue identified as John Doe may be missing Jeremaine's Body that the family went to confirm. Upon seeing John Doe's body it was clear that it was Jermaine Joseph, who family believed was missing.

As it stands the police has not made any full public report on the matter of Jermaine's lifeless body being found, nor why a public appeal for his identity wasn't made to prevent him being listed as John Doe.

It's a thin line between love and hate and when crossing that line becomes deadly then truly one must reconsider and pull back. This weekend social media buzzed with the shared video of a female believed to have died to death as a result of punching out her boyfriend's window in a rage so deadly and irrational that the broken glass from the window severed a vein that caused a bleed out to her demise.

What possibly could be the reason for such uncontrollable anger?

Could the boyfriend have been in the house with another woman or locked down with a man? Even if so losing your life for someone whose life continues long after you've lost yours ISN'T WORTH IT. Have our Bahamian girls become so desperate for love that they are prepared to lose their lives for love? With all the talk about a man shortage being done shortage aint short enough for that. When you as a woman act the fool it doesn't stop the other relationship or the others that will follow. As long as someone is in player mode your money, whine, looks or temper will not stop that person from seeing someone else. As a matter if fact your public temper may cause your feelings to really get hurt as your mate may very well have already fallen outta like with you and is prepared to publicly dismissed or fight you.

Ladies stand down, you have your family, children and better days to live for. Why fight for someone who may just as well fight against you. IT'S NOT THAT SERIOUS! Make tough decisions step back, consider moving on or get yourself someone else. There are plenty of fish waiting to be caught.

UNDER THE RUG

BPL THE LOADSHED MONSTER

BN Agent, X

While another generator caught on fire at BPL plant over the weekend, the entire airport of LPIA was in darkness Sunday night.

BPL made a clear statement that load shedding may continue straight up to March 2020. Now let's think a few things over here. One the demonstration of LPIA being powerless even with backup generators, shows the flaws and dangers in load shedding. While they can place as many calls to the Hotels, Hospitals and Airport ahead of time to inform them of their scheduled time for load shed and their power outage for three hours, It's only a matter of time before the load shedding causes back up equipment to go bad.

Sunday night proved that theory clear, as the LPIA was in complete darkness, why? because of load shedding. Yeah they were prepared to run on backup generator, but guess what It wasn't prepared to push out any current! That same backup generator in LPIA yard.

Now look at this on another more serious situation, if the hospital was forewarned of their load shed for three hours starting at 12o'clock and at 12:00 on the dot and the entire PMH is in darkness, imagine if all of the life support machines that have small battery packs were just moments away from going completely dead, such a case would cause harm to patients and in some cases be detrimental.

If it's going to take until March 2020 for the load shedding problem with fossil fuel generators to be fixed, why aren't we trying to find better equipment or alternatives that wont give us the same problems for energy usage as fossil fuel machine (Sorry Sunshine Boys/ Focol, no hard feelings but we need better).

Why are we still suffering with only one power supplier anyway? If BTC had to get shaken up when Aliv came on stream, why arent we making room for another power company that uses modern technology and renewable energy. I mean we understand that Focol and the Sunshine Boys have to get their cut for their fuel being used to power BPL fossil fuel machines. However thus cost to Bahamians wide and large is too great and an alternate new more modernized company with machinery that is current with the times and certified to world class standard, should be allowed to end up here on our islands.

Should such a scenario play itself out then surely BPL would then understand the seriousness of their business as they watch more than 70% of their client base transfer over to the new guys, within the first week, and almost everyone else in months to come. What BPL fails to understand is that Bahamians don't care about the machines being used to power our country, they would just like for the power to stay on. Nobody cares if BPL has to use wind, sea, or sunlight to get the power plants up to standard, we just simply want y'all to take power staying on as serious as the average man does, who doesn't have a backup generator attached to his home.

THIEF TRIED STEALING A CAR
BUT CLAIMED ITS HIS COUSIN CAR

BN Agent, V
Ever had that one special person in your neighbourhood that's always up to no good, no matter what. Well say hello to this bongie of the day, who claimed he was borrowing his cousins car, which he said he asked her to borrow before coming outside. Apparently the thief was approached by a male who saw him using tools to try and break into the car. The male knowing better took the man to the person who he claimed was his cousin, the lady replied that she "never seen this Cousin before in her life" he was then arrested on the spot immediately.

LPIA CRASH LANDING

BN Agent, V

On August 10, 2019 around 4:32 p.m., a private aircraft enroute from Pompano Beach, Florida to Nassau, Bahamas made an emergency landing at Lynden Pindling International Airport (LPIA). It's reported that two people were on board the Challenger 60 aircraft, one American and one Bahamian and there were no injuries reported. During that day immediately upon receiving the call, NAD activated its Emergency Operations Center (EOC). Airport Rescue & Fire Fighting also responded to the incident at LPIA. Due to the runway excursion, aircraft operations were interrupted for approximately one hour and 30 minutes at LPIA with services resuming at 6:00 p.m. Throughout the duration of the incident, the airport facilities remained opened.

UNCUT!

SUPERMAX NOT PAYING NIB & MORE

BN Agent, V

Good afternoon BN. I would like to inform the public on what's been going on with their company.. And if anyone from The National Insurance board reads this can u please inbox me.

The owners of this company Dr. Micheal

Darville (MP-plp) and his son David George Darville.. Still at this point refuses to pay their employees nib contributions. Now they are trying to say the son will sell this business to his father in order to not pay these contributions,which is entirely unfair to bahamian workers. Some people have been employed there for years and no contributions were paid for more than 2 to 3 years.

Construction was going on in the building and there workers had to work in the middle of it all.

His son brings in illegal Dominicans to sell pussy here n the bahamas which is the reason why one of his workers was jailed for 8months for him.

This is one of the most sickening companies on God's earth... The public need to be aware of this. When any employee is off they must not come in the shop everyone still wondering why?

Mr. Kevin Pratt works at the vat office inland revenue has been paid under the table numerous amount of times to save this company by both mention owners and their general manager Tanya Patrice Deal.

The most hated employees was placed on 1 day. Others on 2 others on 3....the ass kisses on 4 and more days. Without warning or notice or letters as to why these employees are on those type of hours in a company that's. Making money.

The owners secretly saying that whatever hours they on that's all they're gonna get! put them on days like I said with no explanation.

Not because u are a politician means its right to treat these bahamians so...

HERE'S A SMALL STORY PART OF THE TRUTH

BN Agent, Mr. XXX

While some mainly Jamaal Moss during a dark time in BN life when our FB accounts were closed, Jamaal assumed the identity of BN they are at best a watered down version. As their embrace of Ben's identity was to allegiance is some relevance in their life from a work that was already created and thriving.

Unlike Moss who was thriving for political relevance in the FNM and whose allegiance is solely to that Party as a card carrying member and now Senator. Moss is truly unable to present a story without attempts of garnering political brownie points and will only present a story that party supporters will relish on.

I wear a mask because my face is not nearly as important as my voice. I have no political affiliation nor do I align myself with any set group or people. I have no biases and wish only to speak to issues that are current and affecting us.

I am Bahamian and I move amongst my people voiceless. I have been in the same places as you were and sat and listened to you, read the emails and texts you sent me, then I wrote your thoughts and stories.

I am a vigilante of sorts and I am not afraid to be your voice. I take on Governments because

I do not believe they have an entitlement to the chair but are mere servants elected to lead. The public purse is not their PRIVATE slush fund for them to do as they please and by all means they must be held accountable at all cost.

We are a proud people who oftentimes find ourselves taken advantage of. Our rights in some cases taken from us and our stories "buried under the rug." I will not stand back any longer but will continue to speak words that will go where we aren't allowed.

The letters BN is much greater than me, today its a household name, its grown beyond a single person fighting for justice for the underdogs . Today BN and its agents is now a vessel, a shell, a mouthpiece for all. Today BN is you.
