“ RAT TAIL BONGIE BANDIT SPEAKS HER TRUTH ON THE BABY DADDY

BN Agent, X

It's only right that we make these two the main topic of Da Tea, because lord the things these children doing with their rat tail combs is unbelievable. From scratching the rim of people bottom to using the comb to straighten your hair. These days the rat tail comb is just so very diverse in its human pleasing abilities and health and beauty benefits. But back to the topic, the girl that was allowing the young man to play with her behind decided to come live on social media and tell the Bahamas that, the young man is not her boy friend and in fact he is the baby daddy of Tatianna.

Well both videos went viral and now the entire country have them labeled as the rat comb couple. Kind of sad seeing that all home girl wanted to do was seek revenge towards Tatianna, this is kind of

held and ear to their cries and says that yes it is natural for humans to have their desire. Even as they are in recovery state keep in mind they are all humans like each and every one of us. So here lies the big question will a spot be created for the adults to do the wahh hoo wahh hoo, or will they have to fight the urge until their lives are placed back together Only time will tell if their current prays will be answered, but do take some time out to pray that they can hold back the urge of looking to touch a piece of leg during these hard times.

Halloween is a holiday celebrated each year on October 31, and Halloween 2019 occurs on Thursday, October 31. The tradition originated with the ancient Celtic festival of Samhain, when people would light bonfires and wear costumes to ward off ghosts. In the eighth century, Pope Gregory III designated November 1 as a time to honor all saints. Soon, All Saints Day incorporated some of the traditions of Samhain. The evening before was known as All Hallows Eve, and later Halloween. Over time, Halloween evolved into a day of activities like trick-or-treating, carving jack-o-lanterns, festive gatherings, donning costumes and eating treats.

The word Halloween or Hallowe'en dates to about 1745 and is of Christian origin. The word "Hallowe'en" means "Saints' evening". It comes from a Scottish term for All Hallows' Eve (the evening before All Hallows' Day). In Scots, the word "eve" is even, and this is contracted to e'en or een. Over time, (All) Hallow(s) E(v)en evolved into Hallowe'en. Although the phrase "All Hallows'" is found in Old English "All Hallows' Eve" is itself not seen until 1556.

Halloween is the evening before the Christian holy days of All Hallows' Day (also known as All Saints' or Hallowmas) on 1 November and All Souls' Day on 2 November, thus giving the holiday on 31 October the full name of All Hallows' Eve (meaning the evening before All Hallows' Day). Since the time of the early Church, major feasts in Christianity (such as Christmas, Easter and Pentecost) had vigils that began the night before, as did the feast of All Hallows'. These three days are collectively called Allhallowtide and are a time for honoring the saints and praying for the recently departed souls who have yet to reach Heaven. Commemorations of all saints and martyrs were held by several churches on various dates, mostly in springtime. In 609, Pope Boniface IV re-dedicated the Pantheon in Rome to "St Mary and all martyrs" on 13 May. This was the same date as Lemuria, an ancient Roman festival of the dead, and the same date as the commemoration of all saints in Edessa in the time of Ephrem. The feast of All Hallows', on its current date in the Western Church, may be traced to Pope Gregory III's (731-741) founding of an oratory in St Peter's for the relics "of the holy apostles and of all saints, martyrs and confessors". In 835, All Hallows' Day was officially switched to 1 November, the same date as Samhain, at the behest of Pope Gregory IV. Some suggest this was due to Celtic influence, while others suggest it was a Germanic idea, although it is claimed that both Germanic and Celtic-speaking peoples commemorated the dead at the beginning of winter. They may have seen it as the most fitting time to do so, as it is a time of 'dying' in nature. It is also suggested that the change was made on the "practical grounds that Rome in summer could not accommodate the great number of pilgrims who flocked to it", and perhaps because of public health considerations regarding Roman Fever - a disease that claimed a number of lives during the sultry summers of the region.

Talk about getting it by any means, we have to respect this man hustle, for putting this one engine on this half of a boat, because it's not a full boat at all, both sides of his raft if missing side panels. It's almost as if he's on a floating piece of metal thats magically staying a float over the seas, thank God no speed boats passed while he took this bad boy out for a spin to catch some fish.

Even though he made the cut for our bongie of the day, this clip should be an inspiration for those of us that make excuses towards why we can't get a task done. It takes a lot of courage to go into deep waters unprotected just to secure a catch. Mr. Motorboat we salute you! for willing to step out and get it by any means.

75 TEACHERS GET SALARIES CUT

BN Agent, X

Teachers of Ch Reeves & Carlton Francis School has recently got a salary cut. The matter is now in its legal round, Education officials claim the Union did not comply with the agreements procedures as outlined in the industrial agreement and teachers refused to carry out their duties, this resulted in their wages being cut. This is saddening because as it stands teachers are already majorly underpaid. Some are only clearing $250 to $300 per week, barely even seeing a salary of $2,000 per month. Now more will be getting a salary cut, if we keep this process up, soon teachers may just be making minimum wage. No one is fighting for them nor their salary increase and as important as their positions are and the critical role it plays in our society, most of us look at their contribution to society as a spit in the bucket. We need to embrace the role of our teachers more and give them a fair pay of which is deserved, they are a beacon for the future of our offsprings and they play a vital role in the structure of how each generation thinks.

NEW VAT RELIEF POLICY ANNOUNCED FOR ABACO and GRAND BAHAMA

Prime Minister the Most Hon. Dr. Hubert Minnis announced today a new VAT Relief Policy for Abaco and the Cays and Grand Bahama until June 2020, as part of the Government's effort to stimulate the economies of areas affected by Hurricane Dorian.

The Prime Minister made the announcement at a Town Hall Meeting in Green Turtle Cay on Wednesday 30 October.

The new VAT Relief Policy means that individuals and businesses will be exempt from the payment of Value Added Tax on a range of items, including unprepared food of all types, water, fruit and vegetable juice, clothes, shoes, hats, belts, stockings, gloves, scarves, cleaning supplies, beds and bedding material, hardware supplies building materials, landscaping supplies, pest control supplies, electrical fixtures and materials, electrical generators, farming equipment and supplies, fishing equipment and supplies, manufacturing equipment, cots, protective and safety gear, household furniture, furnishings and appliances, solar panels, mosquito netting, plumbing fixtures and materials, office supplies and equipment, tents, air-conditioning units, and other equipment. VAT on fuel for generators in areas still without electricity will also be VAT-free. "We want your economy to get going as quickly as possible. We want to get you back into your homes as soon as possible," Prime Minister Minnis told residents. Details and start date will be announced.

COLLEGE STUDENTS AT IT AGAIN ANOTHER BRAWL

BN Agent, V

What's going on with our young people who should be smarter but are definitely weaker. Last week were the girls now this week the boys got jealous and did not stop green hair at all until they became the newest WWF inductee.

Either something is in the College water or the atmosphere must be sprayed because something is obviously airborne. College official must now either offer anger management or conflict resolution 101. What's up with these onlookers who refuse to defuse these situations but would rather add fuel to the fire until there is fight and a video that went viral.

RAZORBACKS FINISH UP FALL SEASON AT WHITE SANDS INVITATIONAL IN THE BAHAMAS

BN Agent, X

Arkansas Women's Golf will finish its fall season in paradise, heading to the Bahamas to take part in the White Sands Invitational (Oct. 28-30). The Hogs have had a great fall season so far, registering two top-5 finishes in three events played, including an impressive runner-up finish at the loaded ANNIKA Intercollegiate. Despite playing all three true freshmen in all events thus far, the Razorbacks still find themselves in the top-20 nationally headed into the final tournament before the winter intermission.
